Sally: Hi, Marcus. Good to see you here. How are you?

Marcus: Hi, ___ □ __. I'm fine, thanks. What about you? Where □ ___ you going?

Sally: Oh, I'm meeting my _____ □ __ Jane in a cafe. She's just got back from Canada.

Marcus: That sounds exciting. Did she □ __ there on holiday?

Sally: No, it was a ___ □ _____ trip. Jane works as a sales representative. She's very funny and ___ □ __ meets a lot of interesting people on her trips. What about you? What are you doing in town on such a lovely day?

Marcus: Well, I've just been to the doctor's. Yesterday I hurt my arm when I was _____ □ tennis.

Sally: Oh dear! ___ □ __ it hurt a lot?

Marcus: No, not so much. The ___ □ _____ says that the injury isn't serious. But I won't be playing tennis ___ □ __ a few weeks. I think I'll take it easy and relax after work. I'm usually just too busy to watch television or read a book in the evening.

Sally: Well, I'm sure you'll think of something to do until ___ □ __ arm is better. Personally, I like to go jogging to switch off after work.

Marcus: Perhaps I'll try that as well. Listen...

Sally: Marcus, I'm _____ □ __, but I don't want to let Jane wait for too long. Let's meet for lunch next Tuesday, then we can talk. What do you say?

Marcus: That's an excellent idea. We could go to the new Indian restaurant on Oxford Street. You know, the one next to the train □ _____.

Sally: Okay, I'll look forward to it. See you on ___ □ _____!

Marcus: Yes, see you then! Bye, Sally.
